

How did Hurworth school get a CVA score of 1050.7? And straight 1s in their Ofsted?

The answer

ASSERTIVE MENTORING

INTEGRATES TARGET SETTING, TRACKING, INTERVENING AND MENTORING

Schools' successes with this system

Headteacher, DaVinci School, Derby:

"In 2006 we achieved 24%. Our target for 2007 was 33%. We introduced the Assertive Mentoring programme and we actually achieved 46%, including English and Maths. We are over the moon!"

Headteacher, Haughton School, Darlington:

"Haughton School improved its results from 32% to 60% (5+A*-C GCSE) having implemented Assertive Mentoring in Year 11 in 2007/8."

Headteacher, Drummond High School, Edinburgh:

"We were really concerned with our S4. We mentored 43 of which 41 passed school measures of 5+ at General or Credit and 22 passed 5+ Credit, double what we achieved last year. This will transform next year's Higher results thanks to Assertive Mentoring."

Hurworth track record

Assertive Mentoring has helped Hurworth to:

- Raise GCSE 5+A*-C from 38% in 1998 to 95% in 2009
- Including English and Maths from 30% to 72%
- Be in the DCFS's top 50 CVA schools in the country in both of the last two years
- Achieve top 1% for CVA (FFT) not once, but three times.

CONFERENCE PRESENTERS

Eamonn Farrar

Chief Executive Hurworth School

"WorkingSolutions is transformational."

Originally the Headteacher at Hurworth, Eamonn returned in 2005 having reorganised the LA school improvement service. In addition Eamonn spent 14 months rescuing a local comprehensive (among the 7 worst schools in the country) out of special measures. Eamonn is now designated a National Leader of Education. Hurworth School also enjoys National Support School status.

Dean Judson

Headteacher Hurworth School

"The systems we've developed have made the difference."

Recently named the Best Headteacher in the North East, Dean has built on Hurworth's earlier success by moving the scores from 70% to 96%. A recent OFSTED visit in April 2008 gave Hurworth School straight 1s, comprehensively validating the Assertive Mentoring system present throughout the school.
